Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Thursday 09 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright start then rain spreading east, showers in west later.

Today:
Mainly dry and bright start but cloud and outbreaks of rain spreading east this morning. The rain clears east through the afternoon with western areas becoming brighter with some sunny spells and occasional showers as winds turn westerly and freshen. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear spells and, especially across northern and western parts, occasionally heavy showers. Showers fewer and further between in southeast where a touch of frost is possible in sheltered spots. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
A bright day, especially across the south and east, with sunny spells with northern and western parts seeing occasionally heavy showers. Fresh westerly or northwesterly breeze. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Wet start Saturday but drier, brighter afternoon with a few showers in north. Dry morning Sunday but afternoon rain and risk of coastal gales. Mainly dry Monday with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.